

THE GIFT OF LOVE

Unique way for animals to help some of the poorest people in the world on the other side of the Globe-Mongolia

Many of us want to help the poor, but it is increasingly difficult to identify those truly in need. Gift of Love is a program that was born from the work of Mongolia V.E.T. Net NGO which has been addressing the needs of rural Mongolians since 1995. Through our extensive network across the country, we are able to identify those in need and reach out a hand to them through a gift of sheep.

There are many desperate people across this vast country.. .especially in small remote villages. A large number of them are widows and widowers trying to help raise children and grandchildren. They lack the safety net that we have in western countries.

HOPE FOR THE HOPELESS

REMOTE VETERINARIANS DELIVER SHEEP

Remote veterinarians collect the sheep and deliver them to the recipient families. Some of these veterinarians and their herder clients actually give extra sheep as they see the faces of these poor people and catch the spirit of giving. Gift of Love is an amazing concept in giving that exponentially multiplies donations. Every $50 that we receive provides a sheep (sheep cost approximately $50) to a poor family. This same $50 provides the herder with $50 worth of medicine for his livestock and the countryside veterinarian also receives $50 worth of medicine to provide to the herder. And, V.E.T. Net receives $50 to pay for the medication. This sounds impossible, but it actually works. V.E.T. Net has given thousands of sheep to hundreds of poor families.

HERE IS HOW THE PROGRAM IS DESIGNED AND IMPLEMENTED

Herders need quality drugs from their veterinarians but are often strapped for cash. As a result, their animals go untreated and suffer from parasitism and other diseases. These animals begin the harsh winter thin and with scraggly hair coats. Many will die in the severe spring storms. Remote veterinarians want to help the herders, but they can only extend so much credit because they, too, must have cash to replace depleted inventories of medications. So, the herder trades one or more sheep with his veterinarian for medication supplies. The sheep received by the veterinarian are given to needy people identified by V.E.T. Net, the local governors, church leaders, teachers or other community leaders. V.E.T. Net then re-supplies the medications to the rural veterinarian.

This regal Mongolian Bankhar dog keeps the wolves away from the precious livestock of the Mongolian herder. Will you help V.E.T. Net keep the "wolves" away from the doors of these desperately poor Mongolian people? Your gift will go directly to buy sheep for these people to provide a sustainable source of food and fiber. There is no administrative cost since we implement this program through existing projects. There are small fees for getting money to Mongolia, but 100 % of what we receive goes directly to buy sheep for the needy.

This project opens the door in amazing ways to share the Real Gift of Love—Jesus Christ
